City Planners Face Tree Issue Tonight

What is to happen to the 53-year old Roosevelt Redwood at the intersection of Winchester Road and Campbell Ave., when the roads are widened.

Tonight for the first time this question will officially be entered on a public record when the Planning Commission begins the study of official plan lines for both Winchester Road and Campbell Ave.

Letter on File

On file with the City Planners is a letter from Mrs. Alice Joy Keith, now employed by the U. S. Navy in San Diego, but a long-time resident of Campbell and owner of an orchard on West Rincon. The letter urges the planners to recognize the landmark in future plans.

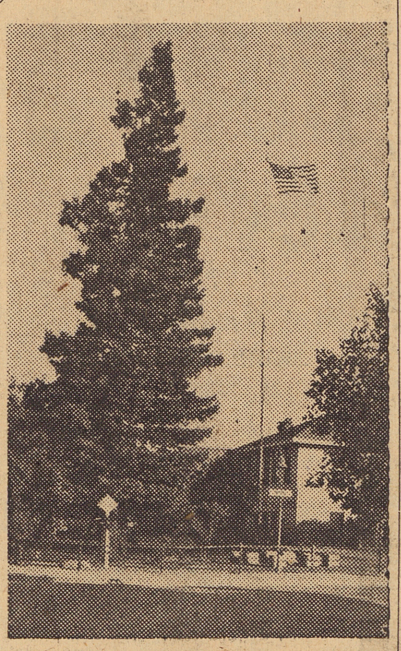
Mrs. Kieth in recent months has stirred local interest in the traditional landmark of the town. She advocates that the tree be saved, even if it means changing the original plan of widening the street. She feels that by making an "island" without obstructing progress or traffic at the intersection, the tree can be saved.

Mrs. Keith, a graduate of the Campbell High, class of 1903, was present when President Theodore Roosevelt planted the tree in May, 1903, and she has solicitously watched it throughout the ensuing 53 years as progress has made its mark [illegible] the area. Now this same progress threatens to destroy this living memorial to the only one of the nation's presidents who visited here. Mrs. Keith hopes that something can be done to save the memorial.

Mrs. Keith, during the past few months, has been almost alone in her fight. During the past week she has contacted many local organizations by letter and hopes that representatives from these groups may take up the battle

A number of residents have indicated that they will be at the meeting tonight when the City Planners open discussions The Commission meets at 7:30 in the Country Woman's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Keith reports that Mark Thomas, city engineer, has said that it would be possible to make an "island" at the intersection and that it would not be a traffic hazard. Mrs. Keith, who holds a responsible position with the Navy and is considered a top authority in mathematics, has made drawings (to scale) of the proposed island" which would be between the main intersection and a right-hand turn lane from South Winchester into Campbell Ave.



ROOSEVELT REDWOOD
. . . Can it be saved?

Other Matters

Of less sentimental nature, the Planning Commission also has on its agenda tonight:

(1) Public hearing on the application of William King for a zone change from R-1 to C-1-S in Shady [illegible] Unit No. 3 (two lots);

(2) Public hearing on the application of Herberet Siemoneit for a variance on property at 156 N. Central Ave.

(3) Public hearing on the application of Richard Ziegler for a use permit to allow a used car sales business on the corner of Rincon Ave. and Winchester Road.

(4) Approval of J. M. Dahl subdivision map.

Rotarians Hear Investment Talk

"Professional Investment Management" was the topic of discussion by Fritz Coltrin, representative of a San Francisco investment firm, at Monday's Rotary Club meeting.

According to Coltrin, bond ownership does not protect investors' capital as the dollar value of the investment never increases, and that the only gain realized from investment in bonds, is the interest accrued. Coltrin recommended investment in stocks as they increase in value and keep up with the continued lowering of the dollar value.

He also brought out that 19 per cent of the population retires on investments, 25 per cent retire with Social Security benefits, and the remainder is dependent on old age pensions or relatives.

On The Line in Campbell

More than 650 went through the line at the third annual Campbell-Cambrian Little League breakfast held Sunday at the Campbell High School cafetorium, according to Guy Troedsen and Steve Dunn, of the Little League staff. They estimate it was the most successful yet held.

Leah Walker, 1195 Longfellow Drive in White Oaks Manor, is the first (and only one to date) entry for Miss Campbell in the Santa Clara County Fair Queen contest, according to Bert Reynolds, Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce chairman, sponsor of the local contest. Local young women between the ages of 18-25 are eligible to compete and entries must be made either to Reynolds (ANdrews 9-1815) or Red Livingstone, (FR 8-2206) before Augut 9.

In case you are wondering: The correct size of the giant Huskie shoe that was displayed recently in Fran's Bootery window in the Cambrian Park Plaza was 144. How close did you come? The two winners were Virginia C. Nye, of Cambrian Park (she guessed 150) and Robert Sherrard, San Jose (he guessed 142), Both winners received a free pair of Huskies.

—o—

Campbell Union High School District received the approval of the State Allocations Board last week for $304,750 for site purchase for the school on Blackford Ave. (number 4).

—o—

Nestor Barrett, Campbell planning consultant, was authorized by the City Council Monday night to follow through on the development of the State Planning Agency so that the City of Campbell would be in line for any state grants for future planning.

—o—

Fire Chief Jack Scott reported to he City Council Monday night that the Fire Department is planning a drill in the near future when an entire building will be destroyed by flames and the volunteers and regulars will get practical training in fighting the blaze. He assured the Council that all necessary legal requirements and other precautions would be met.

The chief also reported that the voluteers of the department were doing a small part in "cleaning up the town" by burning vacant lots and he urged cooperation of all residents to assist in making the town more attractive.

—o—

Persistent rumors that a nine-hole golf course on Winchester Road between Dutard Ave. and Hamilton Ave. was in the planning stage received an added impetus this week. It was understood that the county area involved had been rezoned and that those who had been farming the land had been notified that their leases would not be renewed.

Were You There?

Mrs. Henry S. Young 271 Budd Ave., who was present when President Theodore Roosevelt planted the redwood (then on the grounds of the high school) in May, 1903, plans to attend the Planning Commission meeting tonight.

She will add her plea to that of Mrs. Alice Joy Keith that the tree be saved as a living memorial. The Roosevelt Redwood faces destruction in the face of the eventual widening of Winchester Road.

Mrs. Young also appealed to any resident who was present at that memorable occasion more than a half a century ago to join forces with her at the meeting tonight. The passing of time, she adds, has seen the passing of many of the spectators who attended but she feels that there are some still around who would be interested in preserving the town's traditional landmark.

Press Finds Out How Well Paper Is Being Read

The Campbell Press last weekend went out to find out how it was "getting through" to its readers. The results showed (much to our pleasure) that the paper was doing right well.

Joe Anello, advertising manager, and his assistant, Anita Jacobus, spent Friday and Saturday at the Towne Pride Market interviewing customers as they came into the store.

They asked the customers whether they were getting either The Press or its sister publication, The Merchandiser. And of all those they questioned during the two days they found that that 93 per cent were reading either one or the other.

They also learned other interesting facts.

In 85 per cent of the cases, the housewife was shopping by herself. In eight per cent the husband was tagging along while only in seven per cent the male was alone.

The two ad people also reported that a number of complimentary remarks were handed the paper. And some not so complimentary.

"That's why I'm here," one woman said in answer to whether she had seen the market's ad. Other quotable quotes: "I enjoy receiving it," "Lots of good things in it" . . "I look for it every week" . . .

Other points gleaned included that only two per cent of those questioned were from San Jose with another two per cent from Los Gatos, the 96 per cent were from this immediate area.

TO STUDY REQUESTS

Chief of Police Robert Locke and Councilman Richard Morton, traffic engineer, have been directed by the Council to discuss with school officials the traffic crossing guard requests presented by school district by C. E. Bradley, district manager.

Gubser Reveals

P.O. Chief Says Grim Keeps Job

The U. S. Post Office Department announced this week that Postmaster Grim of Campbell would retire from office next March, no matter whether or not the department presses it charges against Grim.

In a letter to Congressman Charles S. Gubser of Gilroy, who had requested information on the status of the case, the department stated that "careful consideration has been given the charges that were madeagainst Mr. Grim. In view of the fact that, if it were decided to take action to remove him, Mr. Grim could appeal under the Veterans Preference Act and months would elapse before a final decision on the appeal, and the fact that he is due to retire under the law in March, 1957, it was decided to reprimand and continue him as postmaster until his retirement next March."

The charges against Grim stemmed from allegations made by Rex A. Kaber, 680 Emory Ave., Campbell. Kaber complained that a shipment of mail delivered by him to the post office in Campbell last February was still in the office at noon the next day. He asked Congressman Gubser to investigate, and Gubser turned the matter over to the Post Office Department which started a probe at once. As a result, the regional office of the P. O. Department in San Francisco recommended the filing of charges against the postmaster, but departmental authorities finally decided upon the reprimand for the reasons stated in the letter to Gubser.

Congressman Gubser stressed that as a member of the legislative branch, he is prevented by law from interfering in the progress of the departmental investigation of the postmaster. He said that upon receipt of complaints, he notified the department and requested that an investigation be made, but that the probe was conducted strictly according to civil service rules. The decision of the department is wholly that of the executive, and was transmitted to him solely as a courtesy to Congress.

$89.23 PER PERSON

Taxes on property in Santa Clara County averaged $89.23 per person for 1955-56, up 4.2 per cent from the $85.62 per person property tax bill for the preceding year, 1954-55, California Taxpayers' association said this week. Total levy on property in the county for 1955-56 reached $40,761,162, up 16.9 per cent from the $34,880,844 for 1954-55. Population of the county at January 1, 1956—on which the 1955-56 per capital data are based—was 456,800, or 12.1 per cent greater than the 407,400 people in the county for January 1, 1955.

Dogs Will Have Day Here Tuesday

Anti-rabies vaccination clinics will be held in Campbell next Tuesday, August 7, and in Cambrian Park next Thursday, August 9, the Santa Clara County Health Department announced this week.

In Campbell the clinic will take place at the Campbell High School from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. The clinic will be held at Camden High School in Cambrian Park on Thursday at the same hours.

By ordinance (both city and county) all dogs must be vaccinated against rabies before a dog license would be issued. There will be a non-profit fee of $1.50 for the vaccination which is valid for a period of two years.

The license fee for dogs in Campbell is $1.00 per year and in the unincorporated areas of the county $2.00.

County health officials will not vaccinate dogs unless they are on a leash or otherwise restrained. The canine must also wear a collar.

Area Swimmers Win A.A.U. Trophy At Big Meet

Campbell swimmers won a trophy and broke a few national records at the A. A. U. swim meet at Livermore High School pool last week end.

Jim Mitchell, Mike Scroggins, Steve Skold and Dave Andre won the trophy for Campbell when they came in first in the 200 meter medley relay. The boys were in the [illegible] 16 year old group.

Steve Skold came in first in the 100 meter free style race and set a new national record in the 15-16 year old group. He made it in 59.5 seconds. Steve also came in second in the 100 meter butterfly when he and the first place winner broke the national record. He came in third in the 100 meter back stroke and third in the 200 meter individual medley.

Jim Mitchell was fourth in the 100 meter back stroke and sixth in the men's open 200 meter back stroke.

Mike Scroggins came in sixth in the 100 meter butterfly.

Roz Skold, in the 13-14 year old age group for girls, was fourth in the 100 meter back stroke and Dean Faulkner in the same age group, was third in the 50 meter back stroke novice group. In the same age group, Jack Guio came second in the 50 meter free style competition.

Len Scroggins, swim coach, reported that Campbell swimmers were in competition with swimmers from several western states and Hawaii. Campbell's competition in the swim meet was jointly sponsored by Campbell Kiwanis Club and Campbell High School recreation district.

Len Scroggins stated that 60 youngsters from Campbell will compete in the A. A. U. all-western championship meet at Fleishhacker Pool in San Francisco August 23 to 26, and on September 1 and 2 the Campbell group will be host for an A. A. U. meet here. 1700 entry blanks have been mailed to competitors all over California and Hawaii.

$$ Days Coming

Merchants in Campbell were busily preparing their stores this week for one of the biggest bargain events of the year, "Dollar Days in Campbell" August 16-17-18.

The event is being staged under the direction of Mrs. Emily McConnell, of Rachel's Dress Shop, chairman of the Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the bargain festival.

Almost every store in Campbell will participate in the three-day program in which residents of this area will have an opportunity to take advantage of "specials" in almost every type of merchandise.

"We will endeavor to show people that they find what they want in Campbell at prices that are comparable with stores in much larger cities", Mrs. McConnel said.

City Employees Get Pay Hike As Valuation Takes Big Jump

Campbell cops and firemen will have more money to jingle in their jeans this year thanks to the combined efforts of the county assessor and the City Council.

The city's seven firemen and policemen will receive a five per cent pay increase this year as a direct result of an unexpected jump of almost $2 million in the assessed valuation of property within the City of Campbell.

Despite the salary increases, the property taxes in the city will probably be less than the 86 cents per $100 assessed valuation that was tentatively proposed when the city's budget was adopted last week.

The City Council on Monday evening adopted an emergency ordinance amending the city's budget to allow for the increase in salaries based on the additional income which will be received from property taxes. The original assessed valuation estimate indicated that the valuation would be $7,374,735, a jump of $771,536 over last year. The figures released this week by the county assessor's office show, however, that Campbell's valuation had risen to $8,434,120, an increase of $1,830,920.

The city's budget showed that $63,833,33 is needed to operate the city during this fiscal year and that, based on the previous estimated property valuation, a tax rate of 86 cents was needed to raise this money. The salary increases will add $2500 to the city's expenses but even at the present tax rate of 74 cents this money will beavailable.

In revising the budget and granting the five percent increase across the board, members of the Council emphasized that the raises were not the product of any "pressure group".

Councilman Richard Morton said that the Council was simply following the standard policy that has been in effect since the city was organized four years ago.

"Our policy has always been", Morton said, "as the city grows, everything grows with it including the pay scale of the employees. We have constantly brought the pay scale up whenever the city could afford it and the money was available."

When the budget was adopted last week, John Thorne, San Jose attorney, representing the newly organized AFL-CIO union of city employees, argued for a pay hike for the city employees, plus other "fringe benefits".

Mayor John M. Chargin initiated the necessary revision of the city budget. He was supported by all of his fellow councilmen. The raises do not cover the department heads or clerical help who had previously been granted increases. However the Council granted $25 monthly increases to Dorothy Trevethan city clerk, and LeRoy Black, street superintendent. The new schedules for the police allow $343 as starting salary increasing to $399 and for $336 to $299 for firemen. Included in the pay boost was the one employee of the Department of Public Works.

City Gives Go-Ahead Signal To Widening of Hamilton

Work on the widening of Hamilton Ave. to four lanes from Winchester Road to Central Ave., should begin by September 1. This was virtually assured Monday night when the City Council tentatively approved the job as outlined by Mark E. Thomas, city engineer.

Bids for the project will be opened, August 13, Thomas said.

On the insistence of Councilman Richard Morton, City Attorney Joseph Bonacina was instructed to modify the proposed contract to exclude the city from any responsibility in accidental losses.

The city attorney also reported, in relation to the same job, that the appraisals of 21 parcels of property necessary for the rights-of-way had been completed. The two city appraisers, Claire Wilson and Louis A. Cavala, were paid $4200 by the city for the appraisal of this property. Morton thought the appraisal fee was too high in view of the valuation of the 21 pieces of property which totalled approximately $24,000.

Both Bonacina and Mayor John M. Chargin explained that the appraisals were complete jobs in every respect and would be of invaluable service in case of any condemnation proceedings. Chargin also pointed out the difficulty he had in appointing qualified appraisers. Both those appoisted are from San Jose, he added, and were named only when local agents had refused to do the jobs.

In other actions, the Council:

(1) Authorized payment of $1000 as part of the architectural fee to Fred Marburg, San Jose architect, for plans for remodeling the "new" city hadd, the former Congregational Church building on Central Ave.

(2) Held a public hearing and approved the annexation of the Barbano property (Campbell Ave. at San Jose-Los Gatos Road) and urged the Planning Commission to expedite the proceedings on this proptrty.

(3) Postponed action on the new city sales tax ordinance until August 13, after the inter-city council has had a chance to study the new county uniform sales tax ordinance.

(4) Approved the second reading and ordered published two ordinances affecting zoning procedures, and set August 27 as the hearing date for another zone-change as per request of the Planning Commission.

(5) Approved the employment of a half-time clerk in the poilce department and authorized Bonacina to be absent from his duties as city attorney from September 1 to mid-November. Bonacina plans to visit Europe during that time.

It's Clean-Up Time

Local Fire Chief Reports on Work Of Volunteers in Burning of Lots

By Jack Scott

Campbell Fire Chief

Due to excessive winter rains followed by spring showers, this has been a large grass year.

A Committee headed by volunteers Gene Houghton and Louis Wilson have listed most burnable lots in the City, and for the past two months have been burning on Tuesday eveninngs, an average of three lots. The firemen do not burn after dark for two reasons; dew starts falling on the grass, slowing up the burning, and as all fires are put out upon the fireman's departure, three lots seem to be about the limit.

During a recent vacation, local conditions regarding general housekeeping and weed burning were carefully observed.

It was discovered that soon after the grass was disposed of by fire on most neighborhood lots, debris from the neighbors and owners began to pile up. A not uncommon sight on these burned lots were lawn clippings, brush and clippings from yard trees and shrubs, and in some cases bundles of paper and other flammable material, which in turn seemed to invite empty beer cans and general garbage from passing cars.

One might think at times that the firemen's labor was lost in clearing these areas, as the dry grass would hide some of the refuse.

Incorporated in the City Fire Ordinance covering the dumping of flammable material on vacant lots in the city; so far, the law has not been invoked or any arrests made, and it is sincerely hoped that by calling attention to these possibilities that our good citizens will abide by a gentle warning and not force us to use stronger methods.

The foregoing seems to cover the lot situation in the city, but not the general cleanliness that should exist in back yards and main streets.

Shortly after store opening hours along Campbell Avenue some shop operators were observed sweeping shop debris into neat piles off the sidewalk into the curb; the first car passing readily scattered this refuse accumulation completely up and down the street. We, as firemen are proud of our city and the people in it, or otherwise we would not volunteer our services, but at times, we wonder: —about newspaper bickerings and exchanging articles about "dirty little towns".

In some stores it was observed that the floors behind the counters seemed to be the general filing cabinets. This particularly involves the fire department and the lives of the people in the city. I request that these areas be cleaned up.

On the back yard and over the fence inspections many piles of grass and accumulations of brush were observed. This also directly concerns this office and those in possession of the same are respectfully asked to do one of the following: (1) either ask the fire department to help you burn these piles, (2) haul them to our new cover and fill dump, or (3) get rid of them in some manner.

Beginning on or about the first of October, scheduled and unscheduled visits will be made to each and every business house

Den 77 Cub Scouts Have Busy Summer

Fathers of Cub Scouts in Pack No. 77 have been taking turns each week in carrying on a summer program for the boys, which included baseball games between the three dens, climaxed by a trip to Seals Stadium in San Francisco to see a game between Angels and Seals.

In the planning stage, is an overnight trip for the boys, when all fathers will accompany them.

Henry Kahrmann, Cubmaster of Den No. 2 took his boys on a tour through Mystery House last Saturday. Duane Burda, Tommy Kahrmann, Glen Pierson, Steve Story, Roger Langford, Billy Parker, Allen Corall, Tommy Greenley and Jimmy Harville were Cub Scouts taking the trip.

Tuesday night, Frank Corall gave the boys a "star gazing" session when the boys were allowed to stay up past their bedtime to watch the skies and learn the location of the north star in relation to a point on the big dipper. Objective of the "star gazing" session was to teach the boys what to do in case they got lost.

Local Districts To Repay State

Campbell Union (Elementary) and Cambrian School districts were among the 12 Santa Clara County School districts that are scheduled to repay to the state $381,372.07 school building aid funds during 1956-57, Robert C. Kirkwood, State Controller, announced this week.

The school districts are among the 334 state-aided school districts which will be making repayments next school year for state loan repayments amounting to $8,255,313, the Controller reported.

Campbell's repayment totals $81,770.97 while Cambrian comes to $18,705.78.

Repayment computations are made each year by the State Controller for all school districts which have received final state school building apportionments during the preceding year. They take the form of deductions from state school apportionments during the following fiscal year.

Resulting losses in school support are made by the levy of additional property taxes in the repaying district.

Voices Optimism

Assemblyman Allen Feels State Will Act To Complete Route 5 This Year

Optimism was voiced this week by Assemblyman Bruce Allen that the State Highway Commission will do something in the next fiscal year to relieve the county highway and freeway problem, including the possible completion of Route 5 through Campbell.

Allen said he was confident that allocations for the completion of Route 5 and the continuation of the Bayshore freeway would be put in the budget which will be prepared next month.

The assemblyman based his opinion on the reaction of the State Highway Commission to the presentation of the county's needs made last Thursday at a special meeting in San Francisco.

A six-man delegation from Santa Clara County presented a united front before the commissioners urging that equal priority be given both Route 5 and the Bayshore jobs. It is estimated that it will cost approximately $14 million to complete Route 5 and $26 million for Bayshore.

The delegation described the present pressing needs for road improvements in the county which is expanding so rapidly in population that it will be hampered by inadequate highways for years to come.

Allen headed the delegation.

He stressed the constant congestion on county highways and emphasized the clogging of the roads which would be relieved to a great extent by the completion of Route 5. The delegation also emphasized that it felt that the county was not getting enough of the highway appropriations in face of its terrific growth.

The commission agreed with the delegation, Allen said, that the need was present and officially said that they were cognizant of the problems in the county.

The anticipated contention over priorities for Route 5 and Bayshore did not develop at the meeting before the commission. The county group appealed on the basis that the entire county highway system was deficient.

Karl Belser, county planning director, carried the ball for the delegation in its appeal for the most part. He told the commission that Santa Clara County needed 85½ miles of freeway at a cost of $108 million and at the present rate it would take 27 years to complete the freeway work.

The delegation also included Robert Doerr, mayor of San Jose; A. E. Merrill, mayor of Los Gatos; Frank Thill, county administrator, and representatives of various chambers of commerce.

Kiwanians Hear 'Iron Horse' Talk

Campbell Kiwanis Club had many guests at last Tuesday's meeting when J. Casoly, Southern Pacific representative from San Francisco, gave a history of railroading, from the first steam engine, the "iron horse", to present day modern streamliners. His talk was accompanied by colored slides. Art Hannibal introduced the speaker.

Norm Corvello presided at the meeting when plans were discussed for the annual meeting held with Kingsburg Kiwanis in September, when the Campbell club will be host to the group. A day of golf, a visit to the Ford plant and dinner are among activities planned for the visitors.

The local group is also making plans for the "Kids' Day" they sponsor annually in conjunction with the U. S. Air Force, when Campbell Grammar School sixth, seventh and eighth graders are taken on a tour of an Air Force base. The Kids' Day was started five years ago by columnist Jimmy Fidler, another Kiwanian.

Gloria Escover Camden Junior Accident Victim

Gloria Escover, 16, Camden High School student, was killed in an automobile accident in King City last Thursday, in the same tragedy that took the lives of her sister, Mrs. Marie M. Buckner, and her 11-year old niece, Marie Elaine Buckner.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Escover of 12185 Kooser Road, San Jose, and sister of Manuel J. of Los Gatos and the late Mrs. Marie M. Buckner.

Services were conducted from the Chapel of Rancadore and Alameda in San Jose at 8:45 a.m. yesterday, with a solemn requiem mass following at St. Clare's Church in Santa Clara at 9:30 a. m. Interment was in Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

Gloria, in her junior year at Camden High, attended Campbell High School during her freshman year, where she soon displayed outstanding artistic talent, according to Mrs. W. L. Winston, head of the art department at Campbell Union High School. When she transferred to Camden High during her sophomore year, she became art commissioner and did much to spark artistic interest and activities at that school. She was also a member of the Art Honorary Society.

Gloria was also a violinist and played in the orchestra at both schools.

Deadliest Time Is Late Summer Reports Patrol

"Late summer is the deadliest time of the year on California's highways," Deputy Commissioner Ross R. McDonald of the California Highway Patrol warned this week.

This statement is based on last year's records when 465 persons met violent death on the highways of the unincorporated areas of California during August and September.

"Traffic statistics for the year 1955 show August was the most dangerous month with 239 highway traffic deaths," McDonald said. "September followed close with 226 persons killed while October, with 225 deaths, was the next most dangerous month.

"January proved to be the safest month of last year with 138 persons killed," he continued. "During the year 1955, 2,302 persons met their death on the streets and highways patrolled by the California Highway Patrol.

With a record number of cars registered in California this year and millions of tourists entering our state, highways are more crowded than ever, calling for extra caution and consideration for the other fellow,"

Heart Research Work in County Gets $3000 Grant

New allocations of funds for heart ailment research were announced this week by Dr. Leon P. Fox, president of the Santa Clara County Heart Association.

A grant of $3,000.00 has been made by the County Heart Association for research at Santa Clara County Hospital, Dr. Fox said.

The grant will be used in the next 12 months by the cardoivascular board of the hospital for research in connection with the cardiac catheterization laboratory there.

Additional funds have been allotted for "basic research" at Stanford University by the American Heart Association, Dr. Fox stated. "Basic research", he explained, gives other investigators the foundation for studies of diseases and abnormalities of the heart and circulation system. This type of research is to be carried on at seven California institutions.

Basic research and medical research on high blood pressure, heart attacks, and childhood heart disease will be carried on in California during the coming year under grants from the American Heart Association that total $105,000.00. The specific projects will average $6,200.00.

Kennedy said this week he is also coordinating delegations from San Mateo, Santa Cruz and Santa Clara counties who will attend a luncheon August 2 in the Sheraton- Palace Hotel in San Francisco. Chief speaker at the luncheon will be Justin Dart, president of Rexall Drugs and acting chairman of the California State Republican United Finance Committee.

Polio Vaccine Reduces Paralytic Effects If Enough Time Elapses

The paralytic effects of polio have been reduced about 85 per cent in vaccinated children where enough time has elapsed for the vaccine to provide protection, it was reported this week by Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director.

Although there have been 364 cases of paralytic polio reported since the April 1 start of the disease year, only 10 have been in persons who have received two or more inoculations, said the director.

Dr. Merrill said that the protection built up against paralytic polio by two or more vaccine shots is "truly impressive".

He expressed regret that more than one-half of the 525 cases of polio reported so far this year have occurred in non-vaccinated children under 15 years of age who have been eligible for inoculations since last October.

"It is certain", said the director, "that many of these cases could have been prevented had they been vaccinated."

Dr. Merrill declared it important to assure the vaccination of children under five years of age, pointing out that 43 per cent of paralytic cases this year has occurred in that age group.

"Now that the commercial supply of vaccine is available to all persons, regardless of age," the director said, "I would urge young adults to be vaccinated."

"Attack by polio," he pointed out, " is not limited to children. More than one-third of the polio cases reported in California are in persons over twenty."

He particularly urged that parents of young children avail themselves of the opportunity to be vaccinated since polio seems to hit hardest at this portion of the adult population.

Dr. Merrill declared that "polio in California peaks in late summer and early fall," and that "there still is time to provide some measure of protection against the disease through vaccination."

The free public vaccine supply, distributed through local health departments, is limited by federal law to use in persons under 20 years of age and pregnant women. The commercial vaccine may be given by private physicians to persons of any age.

State Distributes 49-Page Booklet On Propositions

Secretary of State this week commenced distribution of six and one half million copies of a 49 page booklet listing subjects to be considered by voters at the November general election.

The publication, in two sections, lists propositions and proposed laws and amendments to the constitution, together with arguments for and against the 19 various subjects.

Jordan said the first 23 pages are devoted to the titles, exactly as they will appear on the election ballots, together with arguments for and against the various propositions. Analysis of each is made by Ralph N. Kleps, legislative counsel.

The next 26 pages, or appendix, give full text of the proposals. If the proposal is new it is printed in black-faced type. If it expressly amends and repeals existing sections, that portion is printed in strike out type and new provisions are in black-faced type.

Jordan said shipment of the six and one half million booklets to various county clerks and registrars of voters throughout California is preparatory to these officials forwarding them to registered voters together with sample ballots.

Copies of the booklet may also be obtained from Jordan's office in Sacramento.

WESTERN GRAVEL MOVES UP

As the Campbell Little League swung into the tail-end of its 1956 season, Western Gravel playing top-flight ball scored two wins during last week's play and threw the league into a three-way tie.

Three of the four teams in the league, Western Gravel, Campbell Stamp and Herb Raymond now have the same win-loss record. (4-2)

Western Gravel	2 0 0 0 1 0 1

Sutton, Baldinger and Cobb; Short, Krug and Langford. Winning pitcher, Krug; losing pitcher, Baldinger.

	Rns.	Hts.	Er.
Campbell Stamp	3	7	4
Western Gravel	4	8	3

In one of the most dramatic, suspense-filled games of the year, Western Gravel defeated Campbell Stamp 4-3, but the Gravelers had to get extra innings to do it. Larry Ferris, of Western Gravel, as much as any one player could [illegible] was the star of the contest by stealing home to tie up the ball game in the sixth and coming through with a line drive single in the final frame and then going on to score on Bob Boyd's game-winning bingle.

Going into the sixth (and supposedly final inning) Campbell Stamp was behind 2-0. But in their half of the sixth the Stampers produced three runs on singles by R[illegible]n Speno, Randy Sutton, Bert Cobb and Frank Testa. These runs put Western Gravel behind when the Gravelers came to bat in their part of the stanza. At this point Ferris walked and was advanced to third on a wild pitch and then stole home to tie up the game. No runs were scored in the 7th but in the 8th Ferris came through again.

Campbell Lumber	3	2	1
Herb Raymond	5	11	2

This was another hard-fought battle with Herb Raymond barely [illegible]ing the under-dog Campbell Lumber team by a 5-3 count. The go-ahead two runs for Herb Raymond were driven in by a line drive two-bagger that was lashed out by Hoot Meredith in the bottom of the fourth.

Jeff Goodere did a good job on the pitcher's mound for the Lumbermen, giving no free-passes while fanning seven batters in the f[illegible] innings he worked. Mike DeVita went four innings on the mound for the victors to win his second game of the year.

[illegible] Sutton delivered some cl[illegible]ing to help win the game for Campbell Stamp by a 7-2 score from Herb Raymond. Randy drove in Larry Peters with a double in the first inning to account for the first run of the game. And later in the fifth he brought in two more with a single, thus producing the winning margin.

Dave Buck looked sharp on the mound as he struck out 11 and gave up only four hits. John Martinez of the Herb Raymond squad lashed out his sixth home run of the year in the sixth with nobody on.

As the Cambrian Little Leage goes into the final week, Mac's Market and No Cal Construction are engaged in a bitter battle for second half honors. No Cal has finally lived up to its potential and as of last Saturday the team was all tied up with the Marketmen for first place.

The Little Leaguers have found the range in the new Steindorf park and since the last edition of The Press four fence-cleaning homers have been hit. Spencer Caudle of the Robins cracked two over the left field barrier in the same inning against the Methodist Men last Friday. On Monday night Bill Holland and Al Brasile socked back-to-back four ply wallops in their contest against the luckless Churchmen.

This game saw the hard luck Methodist Men have their four run lead dwindle into defeat at the hands of No Cal Construction 8-6. Dave Bachman and Bill Kellogg were the heavy hitters for the Constructioners, while Ted Price was the muscleman for the Churchmen with two base knocks.

In one of the best played games of the season in either league, Big Al Brasile had a no-hitter going into the last half of the sixth. Brasile had silenced the bats of the Builders effectively until the sixth when shortstop Don Schultz singled cleanly to right. Schultz had two strikes and two were out when the blow came. The Marketeers had scored the winning tally in the top half of the sixth. Incidentally the run was unearned.

The dramatic sixth inning went this way: Stambaugh was pitching beautifully, allowing no hits. Then after Brasile popped to first, Roger Sipes walked. At this point Manager Fred Remer relieved Stambaugh with the ace of his staff, Ronnie Willett. Willett faced John Grewohl who worked the slim youngster for a walk. Willett retired Ted Perry on strikes. Then came the blow that was to win the game.

Dean Bowman smashed a high hopper to short. Schultz fielded the ball roughly and his hurried throw to first was not caught bringing the fleet footed Sipes into the coveted run room. Mark Hadley fanned to end the inning. Sensational fielding on the part of Ronnie Willett and Sipes kept the fans on the edges of the seats. Brasile, in his almost claim to his second no hitter, struck out 11 batters and issued three passes to first.

Robins	(12) 0 3 3 0

Batteries: Hayes and Pointer; Flory and MacAlear.

Methodist Men	6	5	7
Robins	18	10	3

In marked contrast to the Thursday night tussle, this game was replete with runs and hits with the Methodist Men bowing 18 to 6 to the Robins. A total of 24 runs and 15 hits occurred during the contest. The big factor of the hassle was Spence Caudle's two homers in the same inning to account for four of the 12 runs scored. Caudle's record will probably stand for sometime in Little League play. One of the blows measured 180 feet as it cleared the barrier at that point. (Steindorf's Stadium groundskeeper borrowed Mantle's gold tape measure to check the distance.)

Batteries: Teichner, Hill and Pointer. Vogel, Bowman and Holland.

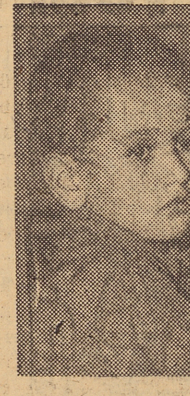
Macs Market	9	11	6

Another record (more borrowing of tape measures) as Al Brasile and Bill Holland slammed out back-to-back homers off the slants of Billy Teichner as Mac's Market took the Churchmen 9-1

Holland's blow was a high fly that landed in the second row of prune trees about 200-feet away. Brasile's blow was a "blue dart" clearing the 180-feet mark by 10-feet. This victory gave the Marketmen temporary hold of first place.

LOW-DOWN ON SPORTS



By Marvin Moore

Play of the Week

Red Schoediens of the N. Y. Giants made a spectacular play. The ball was hit to the short-stop--the shortstop went to field the ball and slipped. Red being alert ran over, picked up the ball and fired to first to get his man. St. Louis won 3-2.

SUDS-SEALS SPLIT TWIN BILL

The San Francisco Seals split a double-header with the Seattle Rainiers. San Francisco was leading in the first game 10-3 in the top half of the 8th. Seattle scored ten runs and won the game 13-12.

The Seals came back in the second game and pounded out 16 hits for a cool 8-0 victory.

ROTARY 4—KIWANIS 2

The Campbell Rotary beat the Campbell Kiwanis for the first time in many moons. We hear there is to be a return game and the fans have a real treat in store.

LAWRENCE GETS "2"

Broad Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs got his second defeat of the year. The red hot Milwaukee Braves pitcher, Bob Buhl, came in in the 8th and pulled the game out of the fire for Milwaukee.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE ''BABE"

Babe Ruth in 1927 hit sixty homeruns. In 1932 Jimmie Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics hit 38 home runs, but actually Jimmie Foxx would have broken Babe's record if there was not a screen in the Yankee Stadium, because Foxx hit twelve doubles that would have counted for homeruns if the screen hadn't been there.

JOSOX HAS STREAK

The San Jose Josox won six in a row in a climb to fourth place in the C. B. L. The Josox are only ½ game out of third.

Steve Bilko of the Los Angeles Angels hits three more homers to make 45 for this year.

HARD TOPS

Larry Rodriquez, local hard top driver, placed 2nd in the third heat, second in the trophy dash, fifth in the final heat and third in the main event. Larry is closing in on Reggie Ausmus from Monte Vista for second place in San Jose Speedway point standings.

What's Happening in Baseball

The New York Yankees hold on to a 9½ game lead over Cleveland. Boston-Chicago tightly grouped for 3rd and 4th place. Baltimore seven games out of 4th and Detroit two games behind Baltimore. Washington 1½ ahead of Kansas City, who is in the cellar.

National League

The Milwaukee Braves increased their pennant lead by four games. Cincinnati holds on to a two game lead over Brooklyn. St. Louis and Pittsburgh battling it out for 4th and Philadelphit, Chicago and New York tightly grouped in that order.

Pacific Coast Leogue

The Los Angeles Angels hold on to a 3½ game lead over Seattle. Hollywood ahead of San Francisco by 5½ games. Portland and Sacramento tied 5th. San Diego over Vancouver by seven games.

C. B. L.

The Fresno Cards hold onto a 5 game lead over Stockton. Reno in 3rd with San Jose ½ game out. Modesto and Visalia grouped in that order. Bakersfield and Salinas battling it out for the cellar.

EDITORIAL

WRITE A LETTER

The Press, as well as many residents of this community, has long been aware that a certain resident of this community was unhappy over the manner in which the local postmaster was conducting his office.

Last week in the "Letters to the Editor" columns of The Press, Rex Kaber quoted by chapter and verse why he thought Postmaster Ira Grim was not doing his job.

This week, in a front-page news story, The Press more or less clears up the situation by presenting a report of the matter obtained through the services of Congressman Charles Gubser from the Post Office Department in Washington.

The entire matter presents an interesting analogy on the function of your community newspaper.

The Press, aware of the criticism leveled at the postmaster and aware that serious charges had been made, awaited word from Washington as to what was being done.

We had talked to both parties and obtained, we felt, a pretty clear-cut understanding of the entire matter.

But without word from Washington on the case, we were not in a position to report a factual story.

Provided the writer meets certain qualifications, and is not libelous in his utterings, we have long made it a practice to publish "letters to the editor" on any subject. As you can imagine, we have often been the target for such letters and we have printed them gladly.

We do not think it necessary to defend that principle and we don't intend to. We maintain it provides a necessary safety valve for our readers. We sincerely wish our readers would use it more. And, the more controversial the better.

We understand the paper was criticized for publishing last week the letter from Kaber in which he raked the postmaster over the coals.

By the same reasoning we should be just as soundly maligned this week for publishing the letter from G. A. Lathrop, who verbally horse-whips Kaber for picking on Postmaster Grim. Lathrop's letter will be found in almost the same spot as Kaber's was last week.

By publishing these letters it does not mean we agree with their contents.

On the contrary, we would be defeating our own purpose if we drew the line and allowed only those letters we agreed with to appear.

In the news stories of The Press you will find the facts.

In the editorials you will find how the paper feels personally.

And in the "letters to editor" you will find how readers feel. That's the way it is. And that's the way it is going to be.

JUST LOOK AROUND

The Press and your editor received recognition this week in a San Jose (excuse the expression) newspaper. Sam Hanson, columnist in the San Jose News, devoted his entire output on Monday to defending his original premise (made the previous week) that Campbell was a dirty town.

Hanson maintained that when he wrote the first piece he wasn't even thinking of Campbell but "after (we're quoting now) serious and careful reconsideration, I still think the quotation was appropriate."

So Sam thinks we are dirty. Period. Now we can go on from there.

We are happy to know just how our man Sam feels about Campbell.

That clears the air a great deal. When he first wrote about the "dirty town," we were linked with Mountain View. But we have progressed. Now in Sam's eyes we are able to stand alone in our own dirt.

What rankles us is not whether Campbell is dirty or clean. We know full well that our town certainly can stand plenty of tidying up.

But it is not the place for a columnist in a so-called metropolitan newspaper to smugly pass judgment on a community just because he happens to be tied up in a traffic jam daily in passing through it.

Traffic jams are no places to get the true perspective on a town. Or anything else for that matter.

So we suggest to Sam our Man to study the matter a little more thoroughly. He should get out of his "little black Volkswagen" and snoop around a bit.

He will find that people resent being called dirty by a smug outsider. We will call our own spade a spade, thank you.

He will find also that the leaders of the community are striving to do something about it. He will in addition find that they resent having their efforts sneered at by the so-called metropolitan press of this area.

Just look around, man, the Sam. It helps

OUT on the LIMB

with

George Vierhus

We got a big bang out of the antics of "Skinny", the four-pound ring-tailed monkey, who created quite a stir last week when he paid several unannounced visits to residents in town.

Both the Police Department and the County Health Department (dog pound divison) were called into service to corral the frisky little beastie, who apparently thoroughly enjoyed himself while he was "on the town".

Sgt. John Morgan, of the Campbell Police Department, assisted in the chase and claims that the little monkey had an excellent pitching arm which compared favorably to those of some of John's own Little leaguers.

John is manager of the Methodist Men's Club team in the Cambrian Little League and can use an extra pitcher or two.

Morgan was the target for "Skinny" who sat in an apricot tree,eating apricots and tossing the pits at the sergeant.

We are indebted to Tom Casey, now of county radio and formerly a Campbell cop, for giving The Press the tip that the monkeyshines were going on. Tom, who lives close by to where "Skinny" was "visiting", covered for The Press during the man versus monkey chase through the wilds of Campbell.

"Skinny' was finally caught and turned over to Fred Schraub, 86 Carlyn. The Schraubs had formerly owned the little guy and just recently had sold him to a family in San Jose and were "monkey-sitting" while the new owners were on vacation.

—o—

Actually The Press must take some of the credit for locating the owner of the monkey so promptly.

The Schraubs had missed "Skinny" almost immediately after he had taken off, and called in a Lost Monkey classifide ad to The Press. We were pleased to report "Skinny's whereabouts because we had already received Tom Casey's tip by that time.

Thus we were able to show results through a classified ad before the ad was even run.

—o—

We can't always boast of such terrific results (after all it isn't every day that a monkey is chased through the backyards of town). But we often get notes from satisfied customers who find that The Press does a good job for them.

Just recently, for example, a note from Lloyd Jorgensen,730 Almarida, informed us that their blue parakeet that had been lost was returned after a classified ad had been run in The Press.

The note from Jorgensen didn't go into details as to how the bird was returned but we sorta got the impression that maybe the bird himself was a reader of the paper.

We have often heard of the smartness of these parakeets in so many cases. Many of 'em can talk, we can vouch for that. So the next step would be for them to read.

—o—

There were quite a number of people in town last week who took exception to the crack that appeared in Sam Hanson's "Off the Beat" column in the San Jose News.

Sam, if you recall, claimed that he had heard that "Mountain View is a dirty little town—like Campbell".

Members of the City Council and Chamber of Commerce were quite incensed over this slur on the fair name of Campbell. They were irate to think that an outsider would cast aspersions on the town.

On the other hand, there were a number of people who felt that the town could stand a good cleaning-up in spots. These same people, however, still didn't like the idea of some guy from the outside having to tell us about a situation that most of us know exists. But we haven't done much about it.

So maybe it is necessary for an outsider to call our attention to it.

That there is room for improvement all over town, we all must admit. There are so many offenders that it would be difficult to pinpoint any particular group or individual as being the cause for the unattractiveness of Campbell.

In many cases, store owners could help matters a bit by not sweeping their daily debris into the gutters and leaving the piles in front of their stores to be subsequently scattered to the four winds.

In other cases, owners of lots that are overgrown with weeds could improve the overall appearance of the town by cleaning 'em up.

A number of business places could also stand repair or repaint jobs.

We all know this and maybe we have grown a little careless.

But it is like a squabble within a family group. Members of the family may fight fiercely among themselves. But woe unto any guy from the outside who tries to take sides on the domestic issues. Then the entire family unites against him. He hasn't got a chance.

Sam Hanson dropped into our office a couple of days after the crack was made in his column.

He explained that no offense was meant and that he was NOT reflecting the policy of his bosses. He said his column was a sorta independent feature of the paper and he had not been told what or how to write.

He admitted, however, that he was still being paid by the Ritters, owners of the two San Jose dailies.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DEFENDS POSTMASTER

Editor, CAMPBELL PRESS.
Fellow Democrats. Republicans are not barred from a perusal of this rebuttal.

Since Mr. Ira Grim recieved his appointment to postmaster in Campbell by a Democratic administration, it may be safely assumed that he is a Democrat. After some minor sleuthing on my part, I have learned that the writer of a rather incoherent, but highly inflamatory letter regarding the crimes, the shortcomings, the inefficiency and the general all-round slothfulness of postmaster Grim is a staunch, dyed-in-the-wool Republican. And I reckon that just about proves Mr. Rex Kaber's aversion as a staunch Republican to a bloody, bloomin' Democrat. Thus it is probably unnecessary to write further. But let's break down Mr. Kaber's still rather incoherent charges.

First, I would like to state that I owe Mr. Grim absolutely nothing (they tell me you can't get credit at the Post Office.) Secondly, Mr. Grim and I are not even good friends. We're just acquaintances. I've have known him some 15 years. I've been getting my mail through the Campbell Postoffice all of that time. And in all of that time not a single, solitary piece of my mail, first, second, third or fourth class, if they have that many classes, has failed to be promptly delivered. During last year I averaged some 15 fan letters a day. I have a 50 gallon drum for burning. I practically fill it once a week with the flood of second class mail advertising I get. Come to think of it, I'd be willing to go along with Mr. Grim if he wanted to burn the blamed stuff right in his incinerator. It would save me matches.

Mr. Kaber states that the post office inspectors were in Campbell and they "investigated" Mr. Grim. Believe you me, Brother, if them lads had been able to pin anything on Mr. Grim, and Mr. Grim being a bloomin' Democrat sitting on the laps of a whole herd of Republicans, he'd been given the old broad-axe.

Listen, Mr. Kaber; Ira Grim is a working man, depending on his job for his daily bed and board. Would you deliberately get him fired because you presumably "don't like the louse". I don't know wether you work at a job, or are a business man. If you work it would entail some hardship were you to get fired. If you're in business, the worst that could happen would be to go broke. I ain't wishing either of those things on you.

As to burning mail in the post-office. I understand that there is no provision for the forwarding of second class mail unless the recipient of same guarantees to pay additional charges. I think this type of mail is held a certain length of time, then if uncalled for, is burned. If it wasn't disposed of, you, nor me, nor anybody else in town would be able to wade through the accumulation to get to the window for a money order. Maybe there is inefficiency in our post office. Have you ever employed a bunch of men? If so, can you truthfully state your employees were one hundred percent efficient?

Campbell has growing pains, and them same pains have infected everything around us, even our post office. Didn't you read the other day where our post office has completely outgrown its present qarters?

I think a little tolerance on the part of all of us, even a Republican toward a Democrat, would not be too much amiss in these booming days.

I am your well wisher,
G. A. LATHROP

P. S. Mr. Grim holds his postmastership through havng passed quite a strenuous Civil Service examination. Examinations are rarely passed by inefficient methods.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

What kind of an Air Force will we have in five or ten years? I can vouch for the accuracy of this answer: "Five and ten years hence, our Air Force will fly the planes developed for it by the N. A. C. A."

What is the N. A. C. A. Unfortunately this greatest of all aeronautical research organizations is so little known, even to senators and congressmen, that there is grave danger that its efficiency will be crippled unless we stand ready to provide incentives for top scientists to remain with the organization. If we continue to fail to do this, and we are failing right now, the NACA will not be able to carry on. What this means in terms of the future of American aeronautics is too disastrous even to contemplate.

NACA stands for National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. Such a committee does exist and does valuable work in formulating and supervising the program. But the inoccuous term also includes a research organization which runs the most advanced kind of test centers and laboratories and employs some of the best brains this country has in the field of aeronautics. NACA operates the giant wind tunnels at Ames Laboratory near Mountain View. NACA does basic research on engines, on high speeds, on sound and heat barriers, on air frame design, on missiles, and on a multitude of other projects vital not only to military but also to civilian flying.

Part of the trouble now experienced by NACA in trying to pay adequate salaries to the top scientists it needs, stems, I think, from the fact that the organization is little known. The full name, describing a "committee", rings no bells. Few of its activities—and I assure you, they have plenty of "glamor"—are known to the public, though much could be told without violating security.

What NACA needs is public support and public understanding of its vital mission. For the sake of better publicity, it should have a better handle than the war-time cover af an advisory committee. How about "AIR", which might stand for Aeronautical Institute of Research? Once the people know more about the scope and importance of this work, they will support it. Once the people support it, the Congress won't be out of step for long. NACA has itself failed to conduct a comprehensive and effective public relations program. Such a program might in the end proveas important as the appropriations dollars now being spent for planes currently in production.

State to Benefit By Proposition 4, Sponsor Explains

Under Proposition 4, the Conservation Act, "the State of California will receive billions of dollars in tideland revenues it could not secure otherwise, with even greater protection for the State's rights as a landowner than presently," one of its sponsors declared today.

This was the comment made by R. W. Ragland, Vice President and legal expert of Richfiled Oil Corporation, in making public the text of a statement submitted to the Attorney General's office at the invitation of Attorney General Edmund G. Brown concerning the effect of the Act on State-owned lands.

Attorney General Brown, who prepared the official title of the Conservation Act, is preparing an opinion on the subject at the request of the State Lands Commission.

"One of the most impelling arguments for passage of the Conservation Act is that it will enable the State of California to receive substantially increased revenues from oil and gas production on the land which it owns," Ragland's statement to Brown declared.

Pointing out that "the sole purpose of Proposition 4 is to increase oil production in California from all oil lands, whether owned by the State or by private interests, by prohibiting wasteful production practices in primary recovery and by making additional oil productible through secondary recovery measures employing salt water or gas injection," the statement predicted that "development of new pools in the State's tidelands under the Conservation Act will increase the State's revenue by several billion dollars."

Sadao Handa Claims Miss Hirose His Bride in San Jose Buddhist Rites

Miss Michiyo Clara Hirose became Mrs. Sadao Handa in a 4 p. m. wedding ceremony on July 21 in the San Jose Buddhist Church with the Rev. V. R. M. Kumata officiating.

When she went down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown fashioned with a white chantilly type lact bodice with long sleeves and scalloped neckline. The very bouffant skirt of imported Dupioni silk was finished off at the waist with a large bow in the back. Her cap-style head piece of matching Dupioni silk, trimmed in seed pearls and sequins held her finger-tip veil. She carried a spray of orange blossoms, centered with white and purple orchids.

The bride's sister, Miss Shirley Hirose, was her maid of honor. Her ankle length gown of yellow net over satin was made with a strapless bodice, bordered with daisies, centered with rhinestones, and had a pleated midriff. Her bouffant skirt was accentuated with three layers of ruffles. Topping off the gown was a matching nylon net headpiece. A spray-type bouquet of yellow spider mums and yellow rosebuds completed her attire.

Miss Diane Fujikawa, the bride's niece was junior bridesmaid. Her floorlength gown of pink net over satin was made with a fitted bodice of lace and net with a scoop neckline gathered at intervals to give a scalloped effect. Her bouffant skirt was finished with ruffles of lace and net. Gold dust sprinkled net circled her spray bouquet of light purple mums surrounded with yellow rose buds.

The bride's sister, Winifred Hirose, and another niece, Gail Fujikawa, flower girls, preceded the bride down the aisle carrying beribboned baskets with yellow-green spider mum petals and yellow rose buds. They wore identically-styled ankle length gowns of different hues. Their bouffant skirts were made with four layers of net ruffles with matching sashes at the waist. Winifred wore a gown of light green net over satin, while Gail's gown was of light blue net over blue satin.

Tooru Hirose was the groom's best man and Takeo Handa and Kazuto Hirose, served as ushers.

Mrs. Masaru Hirose, the bride's mother, wore a light blue sheath dress with a V-neckline. Navy accessories and a white orchid corsage completed her attire.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Katsuyo Handa chose a navy blue rayon crepe outfit for the ceremony with a purple and white orchid corsage pinned at her shoulder.

Following the ceremony, about 150 friends and relatives of the newly weds gathered at Okita Hall in San Jose for the reception. Their three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom standing before a heart-shaped background. Wedding bells and roses surrounded each layer of the cake with silver rose petals between each bell and rose.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, the new Mrs. Handa wore a Lanz-designed dress of navy velveteen with short sleeves and scalloped neckline. A three strand pearl necklace and mathcing earrings accented her dress, and black patent shoes and handbag and the orchid corsage center from her wedding bouquet completed her outfit.

When the newlyweds return from the wedding trip, they will make their home in San Jose.

The new Mrs. Handa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Masaru Hirose of Campbell, and is a graduate of Campbell Union High School.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Katsuya Handa of Bundy Ave., San Jose. The Handa family moved to San Jose from Maui, T. H. in 1952. Sadao is associated with the West Y. B. A. in San Jose.

Cities Can Boost Income by Census But Not County

State Senator John F. "Jack" Thompson announced this week that Santa Clara County has "no authority" to take a special census and use the population increase since the 1950 federal census to boost State fund apportionments for county roads.

The State Legislative Counsel, in an opinion requested by Senator Thompson, said that the existing law allows a city but not a county to cause a special census to be taken in order to qualify for a larger share of the money in the Motor Vehicle License Fee Fund. That fund is allocated to counties and cities on the basis of population.

"The official population of Santa Clara County is a mere 290,457," Thompson pointed out, "but we all know that the population is actually within a stone's throw of a half million."

Senator Thompson promised that he would introduce a bill at the 1957 session of the State Legislature to allow a county to call a special census, "if the County wants the legislation."

The Legislative Council ruled that the Legislature has the power to adopt such a proposal.

Polio Clinics Set Tuesdays Through Fridays in August

Santa Clara County Health Department report that the height of the poliomyelitis season in Santa Clara County is expected during the latter part of September and in order to protect as many children 0-19 years of age and expectant mothers as possible before the polio season's peak, daily vaccination clinics will be scheduled during the month of August.

Beginning last Tuesday, classes will be held at the Santa Clara County Health Department, 2220 Moorpark Ave., San Jose from 1 p. m. to 4 p.m. every Tuesday through Friday during August.

Dr. W. Elwyn Turner, M. D., Director of Public Health, urges parents to protect their children against polio through vaccination at these clinics or at the offices of their private physicians.. An ample supply is available for use of private physicians.

So far, twenty-eight polio cases, eight of them non-paralytic, have been reported to the Health Department. Only two of the cases occurred among vaccinated children, both of the non-paralytic type. The two children had received only one and two injections, respectively.

While the incidence of poliomyelitis is higher among children, Dr. Turner stressed that it is well to remember that many of these cases are of the non-paralytic type, whereas, in teen-agers and young adults, the cases are frequently paralytic and more severe.

The State Department of Public Health has now lifted all restrictions on the use of commercial polio vaccine and persons of all ages are now eligible to receive vaccine from their private physicians.

Children under age of twelve years attending Health Department polio clinics should be accompanied by a parent or guardian as written permission must be given for the vaccination. Older children need not be accompanied by an adult, but must present a statement of consent signed by a parent or guardian.

Expectant mothers must present written permission from their private physicians.

All Health Department clinics will give their injections of polio vaccine seven months after the second shot.

NURSERY GROUP SPONSORS RIDES

Billy Jones will be operating his miniature Wildcat railroad again next Sunday, offering rides to children of all ages. This time, it will be to benefit San Jose Parents' Participating Nursery School Association.

Billy Jones operates nearly every Sunday during the summer for the benefit of a worthy group.

Snuday's rides are scheduled from 1 to 5 p.m. No fares are charged, although donations will be accepted to benefit the nursery school.

Campbell families who are members of the association are: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McClelland, 724 North Central; Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds, 175 Wren Way; and Mr. and Mrs. John Van Meter, 385 East Casey Road.

Joseph Chargin Heads County Polio Board

Joseph A. Chargin, Jr., a member of the advisory board of the Santa Clara County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for the past 17 years, has been reelected chairman of this area's polio fighting committee for another full one year term, it was announced this week by Mrs. Edith Sturbenz, executive secretary.

Re-elected to executive positions on the board, along with Chargin, were Earl A. Moorhead, prominent civic and labor leader, who was returned to the vice-chairmanship, and Frank C. Mitchell,

SAN TOMAS SUMMARY

Isabelle Pechin
FR 8-8040

The Lisenbys and the Blohms have been following the fate of the steamer Stockholm with personal interest. Their niece Elaine, together with her children Mike, Lisa, and William and her husband, Fullbright scholar Robert B. Lynn were aboard her, bound for a year in Copenhagen, where Robert was to study music.

Elaine's mother had made the trip to New York with the Lynns, so that she has already seen Elaine and her family and reassured herself that nobody was hurt.

The recreation group at the San Tomas School has a special feast day Friday with movies and watermelon. Almost any day you can find a puppet show to watch there. If you want to play active running games, the morning is the right time. In the afternoon there is a craft program. Leader Jack Fischer and assistant Rosemary Cooke see to it that every body has a good time.

San Tomas 4H Club will meet Monday August 6 at 7:30 at Cherry Lane School. The meeting will center around the various activities connected with the Fair.

Residents of the Campbell area are invited to visit, and apply for membership in September, when the new membership year begins. Boys and girls ten years of age or older are eligible for membership.

Parents of the children playing in the creek water are reminded that the creek drains an area with many septic tanks. This winter there were several cases of infectious hepatitis among children who played in the creek.

The Flood Control hearing will be before the Board of Supervisors at 2 P.M. on Monday August 6th. Residents of San Tomas who believe it is necessary for the Flood Control District to authorize a bond issue, and follow a definite flood control procedure, should plan to attend.

The Congregation of Kingdom Hall attended the Albany convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in full force, except for a few who were ill and unable to attend. Brother Franck was a member of the auditing committee, and various other members volunteered for other duties.

QUITO QUORNER

The CUHS recreation program is set up at El Quito Park School this year. There is no program at Quito. Ruth Hansen is director and Steve Renn is assistant director.

Children from the entire High School district are welcome at any of the district's recreation centers. We are expecting to hear that the bicycle set has set up a comparative tour. All the recreation centers have operated at a high peak of efficiency this year, and there is little to choose between them. Active outdoor games are offered in the morning, with crafts in the afternoon. At intervals there is a trip over to the Campbell pool for recreational swimming.

Quito-Saratoga Kiwans Club beat the Cambrian Park Kiwanis 15-13 in a five-inning softball game recently. That is, at the end of five innings the game was tied, so it went six innngs. Ed Fox and Junior Morgan were pitchers.

Ken Robinson, Director of the CUHS Recreation program was last week's speaker at Wednesday's Kiwanis Club. Ken has just one prescription for combatting juvenile delinquency, "Keep 'em busy".

MORELAND MUSINGS

Isabelle Pechin
FR 8-8040

Explorer Crew 35 is leaving for Medicine Lake August 11. Advisor R. H. Lindsay and assistant advisor Floyd Dearborn, will go with the boys.

Senior Crew Leader Richard Dearborn, Deputy Senior Crew Leader Pete Upchurch, Crew Leader David Dearborn, Assistant Crew Leader Terry Smith, Scribe Dennis McVey and Event Director Larry Roll will have the trip thoroughly organized, and everybody is looking forward to fishing and swimming.

The CUHS recreation program at Moreland School is headed by Bertha Hoagland with Bob Neily as assistant. Friday they had a bicycle rodeo with prizes for the best decorated bicycle, the best rider, and so on.

The recreation program has worked very smoothly this year, from the inter-school baseball games to the recreational swimming buses that load up at intervals, and bring a whole playground over to the Campbell pool for the afternoon.

Mystery Thriller In S. F. Monday

Mail orders are now being received at the Alcazar Theater in San Francisco for the Agatha Christie mystery thriller "Witness For The Prosecution" which starts a limited engagement Monday, August 6, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

This extraordinary mystery thriller has broken records ever since it left Agatha Christie's typewriter about three years ago. It opened in Edinburgh and then moved to London to capacity grosses.

Two years ago it opened on Broadway and became an instantaneous success. The stars of the Gilbert Miller production include Francis L. Sullivan and Patricia Jessel. Miss Jescsel has had the distinct honor of playing in every performance of this show on both continents. Following the spectacular run on Broadway the comedy moved to the Biltmore Theater in Los Angeles where it has had no difficulty in duplicating its Manhattan laurels.

In addtion to Sullivan and Miss Jessel, the cast includes Gene Lyon and Una O'Connor who has been a favorite of movie and playgoers for many years. Miss O'Connor turns in a sharply etched performance that never fails to get an ovation.

"Witness for the Prosecution" follows the record-breaking comedy "Anniversary Waltz" which turned out to be the Abie's Irish Rose of the West Coast. Randolph Hale, O'Farrell Street impressario, selected "Witness For The Prosecution" as a worthy successor to the domestic comedy. However, the melodrama is only booked for a limited engagement as it is committed to open in Chicago around Labor Day: "Witness For The Prosecution" comes to San Francisco with its original Broadway

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

Plants For Summer Color

Your garden may now be at its peak of bloom but now's the time to set in some fast-growing, colorful perennials. This may seem a bit puzzling to many gardners but the California Associaion of Nurserymen suggest such procedure if you want to continue enjoying flowers in your garden on into Fall.

At this time you can successfully set in young plants of such perennials as Geraniums, Marguerites, Daisies, Asters, Shasta Daisies and Agapanthus. Heat-loving annuals can be planted too and young ornamental shrubs and trees if you make sure to give them plenty of water. Such shrubs as the Oleander, Escallonia, Fuchsia and Lantana will take hold now and bring pleasing colors into your yard.

Perennials and annuals planted now should be of good size which you can obtain at your local nursery. Geraniums (Pelargoniums), Asters, Marguerite and Shasta Daisies (Chrysanthemum frutescens and Chrysanthemum maximum) will all do well in the sun and are very hardy. With the exception of the Shasta, all prefer a not too fertile soil and moderate watering. The Shasta, on the other hand, excels in an enriched soil.

When planting, try the Shasta in its many white-flowered forms with the many-colored Aster or with other perennials. Use Geraniums in several of their brightly colored varieties to edge a walkway or border garden or in a box or pot on the patio or porch. Marguerites grow to form three foot bushes of golden yellow and white flowers and as such they make attractive small foundation shrubs to set at the corner of the house or patio.

The Agapanthus species, Agapanthus africanus, commonly called Lily-of-the-Nile, and Agapanthus orientalis are summer-blooming bulbs in many shades of blue and white that do well in the sun or filtered sun (except in the hot interior valleys where they need more shade). The blue ones are very handsome combined with yellow Day Lilies.

Bright yellow, orange red, white or pale lavender flowers bloom on the Lantana shrub which is evergreen or partly deciduous depending on the climate. L. Sellowiana bears lavender-pink flowers that are quite fragrant and L. callowiana Goldrush blooms in saffron yellow. Plant Lantanas in full sun and provide moderate fertilizer and water

The evergreen Escallonia has clean, glossy foliage and attractive red, rose or white flowers in late Summer. Ane of the ten most useful shrubs for the West, the Escallonia will tolerate seashore conditions and direct sun along the coast. Inland they prefer part shade. Fuchsias and Escallonias combine well though Fuchsias themselves prefer a rich, moist soil and filtered sunlight. In conNerium Oleander) thrives in the Nerium Oleander) thrives in the hot, dry areas where light intensity is high.

Make a trip to your nurseryman's soon and have him help you pick out some brightly colored perennials and shrubs ready to plant now. Extend the color show in your garden with some of these fast -growing plants.

Dependable Daisies

Always one of the more attractive and dependable summer flowers for the garden and cut bouquets, the Daisy now has some improved varieties to increase its popularity.

Four of the new varieties added to the Shasta Daisy group are Snow Queen (1956) which has five-inch flowers, and blooms from early Spring through mid-December in mild climates; Melissa (1955) with semi-spider blooms three inches wide; Jersey Cream (1955) with double, four-inch flowеods; and T. E. Killen (1954), whose anemone-type blooms are six inches across. The latter three Shastas bloom in May.

There are several more new Shasta Daisies (Chrysanthemum maximum) in forms to suit almost every gardener's taste. All of them are hardy growers in all areas of the state. Shastas should have full sun and enriched, deeply broken soil, the California Association of Nurserymen recommends. Remove dead blooms to encourage new flowers and a yearly division of the clumps will control the Shasta's spreading habit. Insects and diseases seldom bother this Daisy.

The Michaelmas Daisy or Hardy Aster offers colorful blooms of pink, blue, lavender, rose or red in contrast to the Shasta's white blooms. A hardy grower, the Michaelmas species and varieties bloom in late summer and fall, adding color to the garden when most other perennials are dying. Set the Michaelmas in sun and stake the tall varieties and divide clumps yearly.

Certainly not to be forgoteen are the Transvaal (Gerbera jamesonii) and Marguertie (Chrysanthemum frutescens) Daisies. Like their cousins, they bring pleasing colors to the garden or a cut flower arrangement. The Transvaal is a native of South Africa and blooms in many delicate tones of Salmon Pink and yellow and also orange, rose and red. Marguerite's flowers are yellow, golden and white, borne on a shrubby bush-like plant of three feet or so. These two Daisies do best in moderately warm climates. The Transvaal needs perfect drainage and deep infrequent waterings. Set it in the sun in coastal areas, half shade in the valley. Marguerites should have loose, not too fertile, dry soil, full sun and in the valley lots of water.

Tricks for Summer Watering

The California Association of Nurserymen has some expert advice for you about the kind of summer watering habits you should develop.

Well-meaning but uninformed gardeners do more SERIOUS DAMAGE to gardens every summer in the name of watering them than in any other garden task!

Most gardeners do not realize that for watering to do any good it must penetrate to the depths of the plants' roots and for it to do this, WATERING TAKES A LONG TIME. Many gardeners believe that to wet the surface of the soil is to give the plants enough moisture, but, except for the few surface-rooted plants, this is far from the truth.

Now in these hot summer days when water is so desperately needed by your plants, follow this rule: WATER THOROUGHLY BUT LESS FREQUENTLY!

And to water thoroughly, says nurserymen, you must set the hose down and leave it near the plants for several minutes. You'll give very little water to your plants if you walk about watering as you go. Find out how deep the roots of every type of plant you have go and then plan your watering times around that. For instance, the University of California at Davis experimented and discovered

Four Communities Name Entrants in Queen Contest

Miss Santa Clara County Fair queen contest gets into high gear this week with four official entrants: Miss San Jose, Mary Lou Ylegias, sponsored by the Knights of the Round Table; Miss Coyote, Irene Stucky, sponsored by the Coyote Grange; Miss Los Gatos, Joan Nunnemaker, sponsored by the Los Gatos Jaycees; and Miss Eastside, Donna Henry, sponsored by the Eastside Youth Center.

Local community queens in Santa Clara County are eligible for the Miss Santa Clara County Fair contest to be held, August 19, at the fairgrounds.

"We are very pleased wtih the selections already made in the various communities, and the fact that so many girls have shown an interest in the contest", commented Mrs. Morgan Dillon Baker.

The Campbell Junior Chamber of Commerce is conducting the contest to select the Miss Campbell entry with Orrin Accardi (FR 8-0091) as contest chairman.
